DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-14, 22-26 drawn to "A Method For Non-Contact Determination of A Liquid Content of A Sample Substance", classified in class 209, subclass 518.
- II. Claims 15-21, drawn to "A Method For Non-Contact Determination of Structural Inhomogeneity of A Sample Substance", classified in class 382, subclass 100.
- III. Claims 27-31, drawn to "An Apparatus For Non-Contact Measurements of A Liquid Content Of A Substance", classified in class 600, subclass 309.

Inventions I and II are directed to related processes. The related inventions are distinct if the inventions as claimed do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants; and the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, inventions I and II have materially different modes of operation and are not obvious variants of one another as Invention I does not function as Invention II wherein Invention II converts the emissivity image into digital data to determine the structural inhomogeneity of the sample.

Inventions I-II and III are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another and materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus can be used to practice another and materially different process from the claimed process of claim 1. The apparatus could be used to obtain temperature and humidity measurements for samples so that you could tell whether or not they were being stored in proper conditions.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Claims 1-14 are generic to the following disclosed patentably distinct species: Invention I. The species are independent or distinct because of the reasons as stated above. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed. Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

It should be noted that the applicant is required to elect one group of claims directed to the above-mentioned Invention groups.
